"I am blessed with the opportunity to continue to sing with my new voice and become the man, artist, songwriter, and producer that I always knew I could be" Valentin Mera.

Valentín Mera is an Ecuadorian|Peruvian|American Singer-Songwriter and Music Producer based in Los Angeles, CA, and Miami, FL. In 2018, Valentín transitioned into a male, after having a career of over a decade as "Diana Mera"; he has now come back, as a man and producer, releasing more than 20 new singles since 2019 that he has composed, produced, and performed by himself. Valentín is finalizing the production of his soon-to-be-launched new Spanglish music album.

Valentín's records have distribution with Sony Music|The Orchard, managed by Alcamay Records, and at the beginning of 2021 Valentín Mera signed with Sony Music/ATV Publishing as well, so now he has his whole music catalog under one roof.

Valentín Mera was born in Quito, Ecuador, and before he could talk he moved to several countries like Perú, Venezuela, Mexico, Switzerland, and the United States where he has spent most of his life.

Mera's most-streamed single "Encantador" (Bossa, Trova & Dance) was inspired by his transition. Encantador is also the name of his YouTube series, where he shares his life in an interview setting with family, friends, and colleagues. After the 1st Encantador's Episode aired, NBC Telemundo's Acceso Total visited him at his home in LA to talk about his career, transition, and new dreams as he became who he always knew he was. Telemundo's Segment "La Transformación de Valentín Mera" was nominated for an Emmy Award.

Before Valentín Mera's transition in 2018, as his former self "Diana Mera" his work was featured on:

Univision, Televisa, CNN, Telemundo, Azteca, Univision, Caracol, Ecuavisa and MTV-Español. "Diana Mera" made history at the Latin Billboard Awards in 2012 for kissing a woman at a main red carpet event for the 1st time in Latam history, while signed with Universal Music. The press started calling them "El Beso Billboard".

Performed live shows at:

During a music hiatus, Mera worked behind the scenes and became a part of Production Teams for Viacom, MTV, Telemundo, Mun2, Bravo, Nickelodeon, and Netflix. Mera's favorite projects will always be Barbra Streisand's Netflix Music Special and Maluma's "Sin Contrato" Music Video.
